1602-19-737-016(P.Karthika)

In the picture, we can see that two people are sitting at the corner of the boat and are not bothered about the situation since the hole is not present on their side of the boat, while the other two are trying to get out of the danger. This can be related to our real-life problems, for a company's growth, everyone needs to take responsibility and stand united to face any kind of problem. Sharing responsibilities and sharing risks are the most important. It can be much related to our society where we can find people who don't make an effort to help people who are struggling for the betterment of society.

For example, we can consider the situation during the covid where doctors and police were struggling to save people's lives. Even though the government laid strict rules to follow safety measures, few of them refused to do so, costing them their lives.

So it is always important to share the responsibility and risks at every pace of our life. Sometimes we may be unaware of the problem and its consequences but we must at least make an effort to help people who are working to solve the problem.
